The “Dream Workers”

Gregory Avandidis

I believe that the "good idea" is the same material that "great dreams" are made of. We have an idea ... it is quite crazy (almost crazy) ok, that's a start!

Vicky Vournia

When "drawing" the first line... the dream, our dream begins!
The feeling you get when you finally see that everything you imagined and envisioned, designed and worked for, becomes reality, is really overwhelming and definitely hard to describe! The secret behind all this : a team with a common vision and passion.

Dimitris Symeonidis

And soon after the first drawings, sketches and drafts, comes the financial planning. The smart designs, the carefully, detailed and planned economic decisions and contacts with potential sponsors, ultimately lead to a self-financing project. So, finally the original idea and the first draft is a profitable project. The original idea offers business, entertainment and education and this makes us really proud.
